DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,670,619 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

They both claim an apparatus for irradiating an object with ultraviolet radiation comprising:

Art Unit: 2881

(a) a housing having an internal chamber; (b) a source of ultraviolet radiation disposed within said chamber for emitting ultraviolet light at a first wavelength, (c) an ultraviolet radiation transmitting, light blocking element in the housing; (d) a first phosphor plate fixedly mounted within said housing between said source of ultraviolet radiation and said ultraviolet radiation transmitting, light blocking element for converting short wave ultraviolet radiation to midrange ultraviolet radiation (e) a filter superimposed over said first phosphor plate for transmitting short wave ultraviolet radiation and for blocking ambient white light; and (f) a second phosphor plate between said short wave ultraviolet filter and said ultraviolet radiation transmitting, light blocking element for blocking ambient white light. The corresponding claims are different in their wording but clearly disclose the same material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 21-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eliasson et al. (5,625,184).

With respect to the claims 21-30, Eliasson et al. disclose (Col. 1, lines 51-63; Col. 2, lines 9-29; and Col. 3, lines 6-17) a conversion means for converting ultraviolet radiation at a first wavelength to ultraviolet radiation at a second wavelength, said conversion means comprising: a mesh substrate comprising a multiplicity of spaced apart elements, said elements being at least partially coated with a phosphor; and supporting means for supporting said mesh substrate, wherein said elements are comprised of glass, quartz, metal, plastic, etc., and wherein the said phosphor provides a wave shift in order to obtain 365nm UV radiation.

Drawings

5. New corrected formal drawings are required in this application because the submitted drawings contain hand marked labels and notation. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. A. Waluszko (5,175,437) discloses an ultraviolet irradiation apparatus for irradiating a specimen of material with UV radiation at a selected long, short, or mid-wave length.
